

An AI Showdown in India

The Economist recently highlighted an explosion in mobile LLM use in India, as the large AI firms jostle for market share in one the last huge sources of users and data. US firms are offering cut-price plans to build a presence as quickly as possible.

As elsewhere, it raises the question about what sort of influence nations wants to have – greater customer power at the expense of indigenous AI development?

Source: <https://www.economist.com/asia/2025/09/17/ai-is-erupting-in-india>

To learn more, contact Global Delta Capital at info@globaldeltacapital.com.